Emilia Shikeenga, estudiant de l'EPS, aconsegueix una beca d'estudis a través de la Fundació "Mujeres por África"

Emilia Naambo Shikeenga, de Namíbia, estudiant del Màster en Enginyeria Informàtica a l'Escola Politècnica Superior (EPS) de la Universitat de Lleida (UdL) ha estat una de les estudiantis africanes becades a través de la Fundació Mujeres por África [<https://www.mujiresporafrica.es/>].

Aquesta beca financia el preu de la matrícula universitària, les despeses de viatge, l'allotjament, l'assegurança d'assistència sanitària i una manutenció mensual.

L'Emilia ha estat seleccionada a través del programa Learn Africa [<https://www.mujiresporafrica.es/programa-de-becas-learn-africa-2018>] de la Fundació que presideix Maria Teresa Fernández de la Vega, vicepresidenta primera del Govern espanyol de J.L. Rodríguez Zapatero.
